Activity #1 Write About It:

Journal: What do you like about the way that you look? In what ways can you appreciate your body for how it looks and what it does for you? Write a love letter to your body.

Activity #2 Group Activity:

Music can be a powerful mood-setter. In groups of 3-5 students, brainstorm songs that promote a positive body image and/or self-esteem. Write notable lyrics from these songs and share the groups favorites with the class. Listen to music that helps you feel positive about yourself when you notice that you may be feeling negative about your self-image.

Activity #3 Art Activity:

Create Artwork that illustrates the checklist for creating a positive body image. Feel free to modify the list:

- I will respect and celebrate differences in myself and others.
- I will accept and honor my body.
- I will tell my body what I appreciate about it.
- I will value what is natural, unique, and beautiful about my body.
- I will analyze how media images may negatively affect my body image.
- I will take good care of my body.
- I will learn to eat a balanced diet.
- I will stay active to keep my frontal lobe and body healthy.
