

Respect - Pre-K to 2nd Activity Worksheet

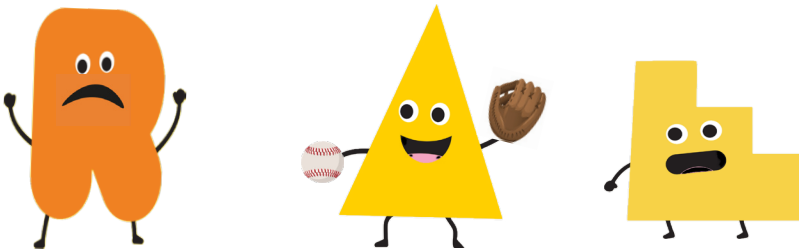

Respect is treating friends, family, teachers, and others in a kind and caring way. It means thinking about their feelings and showing you care through what you do. Respect also means accepting people for who they are, even if they are different from you or if you don't agree with them.

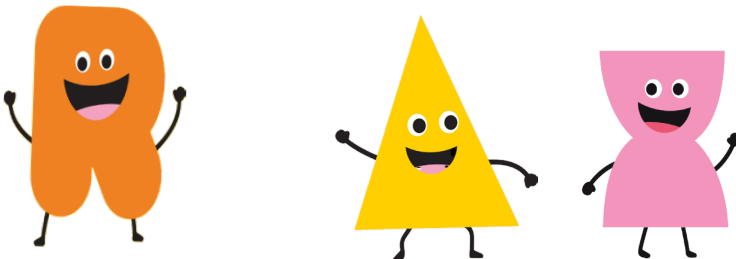

Directions Help Respect and John match each sentence with the correct box labeled "Respectful" or "Not Respectful"

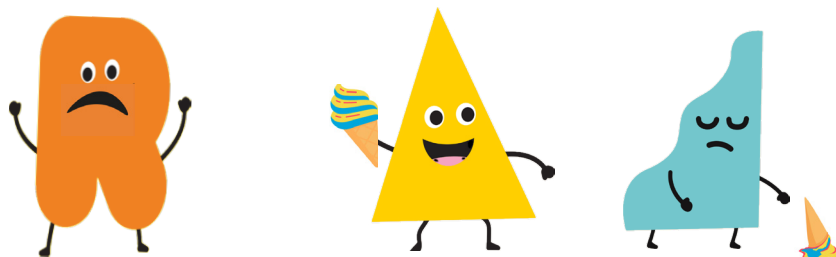

John is listening to the teacher in class, without interrupting.

John took a friend's baseball and glove without asking first.

John is using polite language like "please" and "thank you" when speaking with friends.

John laughed at a friend who dropped their ice cream.
